Vince Dupre and Bob Smart
in Windup Clash—Bout
Attracts Many

SEVEN ALL-STAR PRELIMS.

Headlined by the greatest box-office attraction since the opening of the Antioch Palace for amateur boxing, the card offered by Promotor Dick Macek in the local arena Friday night is going to be the best amateur boxing show ever held in Lake county.

The big super-show is on—the heavyweight classic heralded for months, between Vincent Dupre and Bob Smart, both well known Antioch men, who have been in training for months in preparation for the bout that is of so much interest to local fans. This fight is billed as the wind-up attraction.

In support of this super windup which surpasses, in local interest at least, any bout ever billed at the Palace, Promotor Macek has arranged a card of seven all-star preliminaries, including Joe Espinoza, golden glove champion, who tangles with John Goodman, Chicago Heights, in the semi-windup.

Among the other preliminaries which promise much action will be seen Mike Kobman, Kenosha, and Melvin Brenton, Burlington, in the sixth bout. Midge Bennett, Waukegan, will battle Fred Veller, Belle Plaine, in the fifth bout, while Bob Brown, Grayslake, and Harold Dilsyn, Belle Plaine, are principals in the fourth three round affair.

J. Taylor, colored, star of Waukegan, is matched with Willhold Clark, Chicago Heights, and Eddie Kratch, Iowa star, will battle Tom Wilton of the West Side gym. Ray Davis, Lortus, A. C. and John Hughes, Kenosha, appear in the opening bout.

Friday's Fight Results

Antioch Grade School Honor Pupils Named

All the anticipation, disappointment, and elation is over for another six weeks—the grade school pupils got their report cards. As is customary at the close of each quarter, there were one or two, who even though they had managed to score an average in the nineties, shed tears because they didn't get a few points higher, and then on the other hand, there were many who fairly danced with joy because they had succeeded in pulling off a 75 or 76. Well, anyway, here is the list of those who topped the honors of the school:

U. S. Gets Largest Crystal Sphere

The world's largest flawless crystal sphere, measuring 127 1/2 inches in diameter and weighing 1003 pounds, has been presented to the United States National Museum at Washington. This picture shows the striking result of the photographer's attempt to secure a picture of the giant sphere. A vigilant museum guard who was watching the proceeding has been picked up by the crystal and is apparently imprisoned upside down in the midst of it.

WIDENING OF ROUTE 21 IS INCLUDED IN STATE HIGHWAY PLAN

More Road Contracts to Be Let May 7 at Springfield

Springfield, Ill., April 24—The second road letting of the 1930 construction season will be held at Springfield, on May 7, when bids will be received for 155.88 miles of new concrete paving, 10.92 miles of grading, several miles of widening, and the erection of viaducts and bridges, including the Hardin bridge over the Illinois river.

Will Cost Over Six Millions
The estimated cost of the work proposed in the letting totals $6,250,000, which, with the work scheduled in the first letting, on April 11, brings the grand total of the work already announced for this year to more than $10,000,000.

Analysis of the projects set up in the May 7 letting shows that Director H. H. Cleveland of the department of public works and buildings, and Chief Highway Engineer Frank T. Sheets followed Gov. Louis L. Emmerson's recommendations to close existing gaps on the state bond issue routes, and to hasten relief from traffic congestion in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Bridge Building on Route 21
A total of 16.46 miles of widening, and the construction of a viaduct at the B. & O. C. T. tracks in McCook are scheduled for the metropolitan area. In addition, the schedule also includes the construction of bridges from the Cook-Lake county line to Half Day. More widening projects undoubtedly will be included in future lettings.

The present contract for route 21 calls for the necessary widening of bridges only on the road stretch of 3.46 miles from Half Day to the Cook county line. The grading and road construction will be included in future contracts.

Illinois to Celebrate May 12 as Hospital Day

Springfield, Ill., April 24—With the endorsement of Governor Emmerson, who has issued a statement heartily favoring the project, Illinois will celebrate May 12 as hospital day. This announcement was made here today by Dr. Andy Hall, state health director, who pointed out that the 353 hospitals and sanatoria of the State will hold open house to thousands of visitors May 12th.

The dual purpose of the occasion is to stimulate greater popular appreciation of the great humanitarian services being rendered by hospitals in Illinois and to commemorate the 112th anniversary of the birth of Florence Nightingale, founder of modern hospital and nursing work.

"The significance of this event," said Dr. Hall, "is indicated by the fact that hospitals and sanatoria are more than anything else an expression of deep and practicable human sympathy for people who are

Mrs. Barney Trieger is Chosen on County Board

Announcement was made here today that Mrs. Barney Trieger, Antioch, was chosen a member of the board of directors of the Lake County Tuberculosis association held at Memorial hall, Waukegan, last week.

The newly installed board will dictate the policy of the organization; direct the expenditure of Christmas seal funds; and make appeals in conjunction with the Board of Supervisors for additional hospital facilities for the care of tuberculosis patients.

The plan underlying the selection of the new board members requires that one be selected from each township and ten from the county at large. All townships were represented on the board, as it was named last week.

RUSSELL MARTIN AND ORCHESTRA AT PALACE SATURDAY

Returning by special request, Russell Martin and his famous band of terpsichorean artists again will be featured at the Antioch Palace Saturday night. These musicians made a hit here several weeks ago, and those who heard them at that time have asked Manager Macek to have the band return. It's a treat, they say, to dance to the music of Martin.

PIANO RECITAL IS A BIG SUCCESS

Waukegan pupils of Georgia Olive Ray presented a delightful recital at the Methodist Episcopal church Tuesday night before a large and appreciative audience. Eva Lois Meyer, well known and talented violinist of Waukegan, presented four numbers which won much applause. Miss Ray gave two groups of selections, after which she received a basket and beautiful bouquet of roses.

The pleasing manner in which the pupils played proved the ability of Miss Ray as an instructor of children. She has opened a Branch Studio in Antioch in addition to the studio at 821 Porter street in Waukegan.

Christian Scientists To Sponsor Lecture Here

The local Christian Science society members are sponsoring a free lecture on Christian Science to be held at the high school auditorium, Antioch, on Thursday evening, May 1, at eight o'clock. It will be delivered by Richard J. Davis, of Chicago, who is a member of the Board of Lectureship of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Case spent Sunday in Beloit.

In need. Very few hospitals are money making institutions. In Illinois 293 of the 353 hospitals and sanatoria are owned and operated by state, federal and local governments or by churches and fraternal organizations. They represent vast investments of money derived from philanthropic and charitable sources.

FOX LAKE MAN IS KILLED WHEN HE CROSSES STREET

James Bergins, 50, Struck
By Two Cars on Grand Avenue Monday

James Bergins, 50-year-old Fox Lake resident, was instantly killed when he was struck by one auto and his unconscious form was thrown into the path of another as he was crossing Grand avenue in the village of Fox Lake Monday night.

According to witnesses, the victim was hit by Frank Nulk's car when he started to cross the road. The machine was going east on the main street of the town and Bergin's body was thrown to one side and was struck again by the car that was following Nulk's car, which was driven by Frank Scharvat, a Fox Lake resort owner.

Prior to the verdict of the coroner's jury, acting under Deputy Coroner Maurice Penny of Libertyville, which stated that Bergins had come to his death from injuries sustained in an unavoidable automobile accident, Nulk was held by Marshal J. D. Riggs.

An investigation was started when the Marshal had the body removed to the village hall. Scharvat, who had driven on to Waukegan after the accident, telephoned Marshal Riggs from Waukegan and was notified to appear at the inquest. Neither of the motorists was at the scene of the accident when Riggs arrived to make his investigation.

The victim, who has been employed for some time, has made his home in Fox Lake for the last eight years and commuted to and from his work in Chicago.

Mrs. P. E. Chinn and Mrs. Leonard Case were Waukegan visitors Thursday.

Miss Bess Dunham, Pittsfield, Ill., spent the week-end at the Charles Lux home.

Prin. W. C. Petty Receives Mention Among Celebrities

Winning wide recognition due to his securing the Republican nomination for superintendent of Lake county schools, Prin. W. C. Petty, of Antioch, appeared on the "Side-walks of the Northshore" this morning. Commenting upon those things which make Mr. Petty eligible for mention among the celebrities of the lake shore, the Herald and Examiner says in part, "He is known and liked by young and old alike. Although still a young man, he has had seven years of teaching experience and is a leader in the work of the National Educational association." A caricature accompanies the editorial annotation.

ANTIOCH IS AGAIN LURING PLEASURE SEEKERS FROM ALL PARTS OF LAND

Has Natural Endowments And Splendid Resort Facilities

Again the lure of northern Illinois' lakes is capturing the hearts of summer recreation seekers who are looking forward to putting their precious vacation days to the best advantage. And again resorts, shorelines, and beauty spots of Antioch and vicinity are being trimmed up for the annual board of tourists whose autos and traveling bags bear stamps and name plates from all over the United States.

Unequaled climate, her wild life, her innumerable resort facilities has satisfied every requirement of the tourist as well as state residents. Antioch, alive with the elite society of Chicago, becomes a virtual city during the summer months. For once during the year the solemnity of the village marshal's duties are broken as he tries in vain to keep the city chauffeurs from speeding.

Antioch's natural endowments and superb conditions have caused resort operators from other cities to study local methods that their own regions will develop and attract the magnetic powers now enjoyed here. Of course Antioch has no Yellowstone Park, but the beauty that lies in its state

Embargo on Cattle Effective May 19

Governor's Proclamation
Does Not Affect Stockyards Shipments

Springfield, Ill., April 24—By virtue of a proclamation issued today by Gov. Louis L. Emmerson, Illinois will place an embargo effective May 15, on cattle suffering from Bang's disease.

To enter Illinois from other states after May 15, dairy and breeding cattle must be accompanied with certificates from the livestock sanitary officials of the state of origin, to the effect that they have been tested and found free from infectious abortion. The test must have been performed within thirty days of the date of entry.

Untested cattle may enter if consigned to public stock yards in Illinois, but to move therefrom to mingle with the herds of Illinois, a test, at the stockyards, is required. The same provisions cover stock imported into Illinois for public sale.

Cattle originating in "Bang-Abortion-Free Accredited" herds in other states may enter Illinois if accompanied by certificates to that effect, issued by the proper officials in the state of origin.

Cattle may enter for feeding and grazing purposes, without certificates of tests, but entering under that provision, they must be kept in quarantine during the feeding or grazing period, or until sold for slaughter.

The proclamation states that the department of agriculture has ascertained that infectious abortion or Bang disease exists among cattle and that it is a dangerously infectious and communicable disease, causing great losses to the cattle industry.

From information gathered by officials of the department of agriculture, the seriousness of this livestock ailment, and the importance of preventive measures are apparent. A survey of conditions in the livestock industry, and research seeking preventive measures yields the following information:

Infectious abortion exists throughout the United States, and is more prevalent in the dairy sections. Twenty states have now adopted embargo methods barring infected cattle from their borders. Without this action on the part of the governor, Illinois might become the dumping ground for diseased cattle that can not enter legally, the other leading dairy states.

The importation of dairy and breeding cattle into Illinois is placed at approximately 75,000 head each year. On the basis of carefully compiled estimates that ten per cent of the dairy herds throughout the entire country are infected with this disease, the menace to the herds of Illinois, through an unguarded importation assumes proportions that demand attention.

The department of agriculture, through the division of animal industry will endeavor to obtain complete obedience to the embargo, for the protection of the dairy herds on the farms in Illinois.

vacationists are attracted to Antioch and vicinity because there are spots here that are quiet and secluded—the dream of the worried financier and tired business man and their families. It is a paradise of wild life and beautiful lakes. It bids strongly for recognition as a popular recreational haven; yachting can be enjoyed here and pleasure seekers can keep cool with fishing aplenty. The lakes around here have splendid frontages and boast many fine summer homes. When it's ninety in the shade the attentions of vacationists will be attracted to the dancing of waves along the shores of lakes located near Antioch. To these lakes beautiful highway systems lead directly from Chicago and other metropolitan centers in Illinois and Wisconsin. Small lakes, large lakes, sandy lakes, mossy and rock lakes, lakes abounding with pike and pickerel, lakes with bass and muskies—they dot every square mile.

Resorts and cottages will soon hang out shingles with a hodge-podge of names. Their business is to do their share in providing recreationists with food and shelter.

Florida may focus attention on her landlots and prospective "bonanza" developments, but Antioch booms and "cashes in" on natural endowments and facilities.

THE NEW CONSOLIDATION

Some months ago, in an earlier page, we heard of "The New Co-operation." On another page of this issue of The Antioch News is found a page on "Linking Town and Country." It might be termed an article on "THE NEW CONSOLIDATION."

Consolidation is the trend of business today. Railroads, banks, oil companies, film producers, chain stores, every line of business is entering into consolidations. But the BIGGEST CONSOLIDATION which can take place, and which is rapidly coming about, is the consolidation between individual towns and their trade territories.

Earlier in the year we learned the statistics of "One In Ten" but we also learned that here and there, thirty and forty miles apart rather than ten or twelve, are smaller towns which are GROWING. The same applies to larger cities with greater distances between. This leaves the successful town a greater trade radius to include in its "consolidation." And the methods of bringing together this town and its trade radius are worthy of the consideration of each of us.

The bringing about of a closer relationship between this town and its territory will mean increased dividends in many ways to each of us. Increased dividends in new friendships as well as new business.

And the development of the six factors which control this great merger which we are all interested in putting through will bring us, in addition to the benefits of the merger itself, benefits in a richer, better home life in this community of ours.

This is not a "Your" community—not a "His" community—not a "My" community. It is an "OUR" community; and as such the more people included in that "Our" the better and greater community it will grow up to be. Every line of business, every walk of life, every man, woman and child is interested; this interest means growth; and to grow we need more room, the room which will come with the Linking of the Town and Country in our New Consolidation.

TRANSATLANTIC TELEPHONY PROGRESSES

Transatlantic telephone calls during 1929 increased about 60 per cent over 1928, due to the marked improvement made in efficiency during the year and to the extension and addition of transmission facilities.

It is now possible to telephone from the United States to practically all the principal European cities. Approximately 29,450,000 telephones, serving 350,000,000 people can be interconnected. The telephone is revolutionizing international social, diplomatic and business relations.

SEVEN YEARS OF ELECTRICITY

Since 1922 the population of the United States has increased 11 per cent, while the number of people living in electrically wired homes has risen 75 per cent. The percentage of users of power has thus grown nearly seven times as fast as population during the past seven years.

Of equal importance is the fact that, since 1922, power plant capacity has doubled while the output of electricity has shown an even larger increase. Consequently this progress a marked improvement in fuel utilization has been obtained. In seven years the average amount of coal needed to produce a kilowatt-hour of electricity has been reduced from 2.5 to 1.7 pounds. During 1929 this represented a saving of 23,000,000 tons which would have been burned had the electric industry still operated on the efficiency basis of 1922.

Revenues from the sale of current to consumers, however, have grown at a lesser rate due, in a large degree, to the policy of the electric industry of passing on to its customers the benefits accruing from increased economy and efficiency in operation.

During these seven years electricity has, as well, come into steadily increasing use in industry and power has been supplied to thousands of farmers and to a multitude of villages in isolated areas. A survey of the facts is convincing proof that the Electric Age is just getting into full stride.

SATISFYING WORLD DEMAND

More and more the rest of the world is coming to depend on the United States for products and commodities of all kinds.

During 1929, according to the Department of Commerce, foreign sales of American industrial machinery totaled over $257,000,000. The significance of this is shown by the fact that in 1913 the total was but $37,129,000, and during the last ten years the average has been $194,533,000.

The World's Work points out that this achievement was made in the face of sharp competition from foreign machine-manufacturers who suffer from overproduction at home and are forced to dispose of their products in the world market. American machinery products in the heart of the foreign market, and at was sold in the heart of the foreign market, and at prices somewhat higher than those asked by the foreign manufacturers, solely because of its superior quality.

The efficiency and economy of American manufacturing industries are not equaled elsewhere. Adequate, low-priced electric power, our splendid transportation system, the application of gas to thousands of industrial operations—such factors as these are responsible for our international eminence.

A GROWING MENACE

In spite of the efforts of public and private organizations, fire waste is tremendous in America. It is the greatest enemy of social and industrial progress.

In 1913, the loss totaled $203,763,550. By 1926, it had almost trebled, reaching a total of over $560,000,000. In the next year an appreciable reduction was effected, the total being less than $473,000,000, as a result of intensive campaigns to promote carefulness, better building construction and more adequate fire-fighting facilities.

In 1928, only a small reduction was effected and the total exceeded $464,000,000. Loss since then has remained at approximately the same level.

It is evident that a vast amount of educational work remains to be done. Americans fail to realize the economic results of fire. It destroys part of our national wealth and causes unemployment and loss of wages. It can check the growth of communities when men, thrown out of work by fire, must seek employment elsewhere.

Our fire losses can be cut in half at least, according to "Safeguarding America Against Fire," but this will not come about until the public, realizing the economic waste of fire, learns to build better and practices carefulness in the matter of fire hazards. Our yearly sacrifice of lives and property is inexcusable.

Old Eagle Eye Says--

That spring cleaning is more than a fetish, that it is a custom drilled into the minds and methods of house- and dirt chasing ancestors is in evidence everywhere in Antioch. The drab of the winter is being hid under new and exciting guises.

Who said George Bartlett didn't believe in maintaining the conventional orientation of his bones? You should have seen him on Main street Monday noon—jumping the rope and there wasn't much circumstantial evidence that he was troubled with the rheumatism either.

Reveries of the springtime: Lawn mowers clicking, bachelors standing on the street corners watching for the new arrivals on the matrimonial market, ambitious women folk planting their gardens, high school seniors taking measurements for their caps and gowns, kids roller skating, pupils and students going for rides in antique machines.

"I'm going to plant my garden whether it freezes or not," Mrs. Carrie Wilton said to Old Eagle Eye Wednesday noon, as she introduced Mr. Spade to Miss Loam. That's the kind of sentiment that makes the Old Weather Man sit up and take notice.

SICK FIFTEEN YEARS; KONJOLA BRINGS RELIEF

Venerable Farmer of 73 Says New Medicine Is Best By Far He Ever Tried

MR. OLYSSEN FERRY

"I'll say Konjola is the master medicine; I am 73 and it beats anything I ever heard about," said Mr. Olyssen Ferry, R. F. D. No. 1, East St. Louis. "For fifteen years rheumatism and neuritis caused untold misery in my shoulders and neck, and the joints of my fingers were badly swollen, as were my knees and feet. Whatever I ate caused gas and pain, which was so intense at times that I could not work."

"I was advised to go to the hospital, but as I had heard and read so much about Konjola I decided to try it first. And how happy I am that I made this decision, for Konjola was surely a splendid success in my stubborn case. My appetite and digestion improved the first week, then these dreadful pains began to decrease. In five weeks I felt so well in every way that I could hardly believe I was the same man."

Konjola is not designed for mere temporary relief. Quickly it goes to the source of the ills of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels: rheumatism, neuritis and nervousness. When taken over a period of six to eight weeks the results will amaze those with even the most stubborn ailments.

Konjola is sold in Antioch, Illinois, at S. H. Reeves' drug store, and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.

Household
HintsWhy Not a German
Meal for Tonight?

The happy custom of serving dinners typical of other lands is growing into quite a vogue among women who pride themselves on the variety of their home menus. Every country is famed for certain characteristic dishes, and these thoughtful cooks find that the whole family enjoys the novelty of occasional dishes favored by other nations.

Of course most of us are too busy to undertake the serving of courses that involve long preparation. Among the Germans, for example, one of the most enjoyable dishes is a Sauerbraten, or sour roast, which takes nearly a full week of soaking in vinegar and spices to make it ready for the table. However, there are scores of other attractive dishes for which we are indebted to those excellent German housewives, and which require but little trouble in preparing.

German style steak, for instance, is a toothsome addition to any meal. Willet lettuce, cheese pudding and potato salad are other delightful dishes that every American family should know. So why not try serving a German dinner some night soon? Both of the following menus are decidedly German in origin, and will prove both wholesome and delicious:

Menu I

German Style Steak
Fried Potatoes
Wilted Lettuce with Bacon and Vinegar
Rolls Butter
Cheese Pudding

Menu II

Platter of Cold Meats
Dutch Potato Salad

Cheese Prepared Mustard
Spanish Queen Olives
Rye Bread

Steak, German Style

Cut  $\frac{1}{2}$  inch thick sirloin steak into rectangular pieces about two by four inches. Lay one slice of bacon on each piece of steak, and  $\frac{1}{2}$  sweet dill pickle on the bacon. Roll up and secure with a toothpick. Sear in a hot skillet, and place in a casserole. Pour over these meat-rolls a sauce made of  $\frac{3}{4}$  cup water and 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Bake for 45 minutes in a moderate oven.

Wilted Lettuce with

Bacon and Vinegar
Chop several slices of bacon and fry until crisp. Add 1-8 cup vinegar, 1-8 cup water, about 1 teaspoon sugar, chopped onion and pepper to flavor. Sprinkle chilled lettuce with salt, and pour the bacon sauce over it. Mix thoroughly and serve.

Cheese Pudding

6 slices of bread (1 day old), American Cheese,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cups milk, 2 eggs,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt, few grains pepper, 1-8 teaspoon paprika. Cut crusts from bread, and lay slices in a buttered casserole, fitting slices to cover the entire surface. Slice cheese, and lay it all over bread covering with the rest of the bread. Beat eggs, add milk and seasonings. Pour this mixture over bread and cheese. Bake in a moderate oven until custard is set (about one hour).

Hints For Homemakers

EBONY glass plates and demi-tasse cups, and crystal tumblers with a square ebony glass base, are the latest development in tableware for the smart hostess. The combination of the lustrous black and gleaming crystal adds accent to the sheen of fine linen and the gleam of silver.

With most skilled cooks, caramel is a favorite flavoring agent for many meat sauces and soups. Here's a quick and easy way to make it. Melt a cup of granulated sugar slowly in a pan and cook until dark brown, being careful to avoid scorching. Pour in a cup of boiling water and cook slowly until a thick syrup is formed. The caramel may be kept indefinitely in a covered glass jar.

Sally Ann's
—at her home

Suppose all you little boys and girls made Easter nests last Saturday—well, Sally Ann did too, and you'll be surprised when you learn all about the great big surprise she got when she looked into the barrel where she had carefully placed the little bits of straw the night before.

Poor Sally Ann was so excited about all the nice Easter eggs she was planning on getting that she woke up in the morning bright and early—before 5 o'clock. And what do you know about it, it rained in her town on Easter day too! Her mother told her, however, that she could not go out to get her Easter eggs until they got home from church. So Sally Ann was very restless all the while the minister was talking.

After they got home and had their breakfast eaten, Sally Ann put on her coat and hat and ran as fast as she could out to the barrel. When she small lettuce leaves), place a mound of Dill Pickles and a mound of Stuffed Spanish Olives. At each end of these mounds, place overlapping slices of cheese. On both sides of the mounds, arrange overlapping slices of Liverwurst, Blutwurst, Cold Ham, Cold Tongue. At one end of the latter place a large mound of lettuce, and at the other end a mound of sliced tomatoes. Garnish with parsley. From this platter each person may make himself a salad or substantial sandwich.

Dutch Potato Salad

2 cups diced cooked potatoes, 2 slices bacon,  $\frac{1}{4}$  cup pure cider vinegar,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup sugar, 1 small onion diced, 1 teaspoon salt. Cut bacon in squares, and fry. Brown the onion and add the vinegar, salt, sugar, and potatoes. Heat thoroughly.

New Spaghetti Dishes
That Will Solve
Your Problems

Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce with Cheese, which can be purchased ready to heat and serve, is a well-known and favorite luncheon and supper dish. But many women do not realize the surprising number of economical and savory "one-dish dinners" that can be prepared from just a can of Spaghetti, plus a bit of ground meat or a few sausages with a touch of spicy seasoning. Even plain pot roast becomes a special treat when served with a liberal portion of Spaghetti.

Some evening when you want to prepare a pleasant surprise for your family, try stuffing green peppers with Spaghetti. Instead of with ground meat or rice. And everyone is sure to like that old Southern dish—Creole Pork.

The following Spaghetti recipes should go far in helping you solve that never-ending problem of "what can I serve today?"

Casserole of Meat and Spaghetti

1 pound ground steak, 1 medium size onion, 1 large green pepper, 1 medium can Cream of Tomato Soup.

got there she stopped down and looked in to see what Old Man Bunny had left for her. And what do you think—just as she took a peak in, who should fly out at her but Old Mrs. Biddy, one of her father's hens who had decided early that morning that that barrel would not be such a bad place in which to lay her Easter egg.

Sally Ann was frightened almost to death. Poor old Mrs. Biddy didn't mean to do Sally Ann any harm though—in fact she was just as scared as Sally Ann was. Sally Ann, who was terribly disappointed as well as frightened, ran into the house crying and told her papa that an old hen flew out at her and that naughty Old Man Bunny didn't leave her anything. Her dad said that she should go out and look again because she was sure that the old Easter rabbit wouldn't disappoint a little girl like Sally Ann. So after picking up enough courage, Sally Ann went out to the barrel again and this time she got a bigger surprise than she had before, because there in the straw lay a whole dozen of prettily colored Easter eggs that Old Man Bunny had left there for her.

1 medium can Cooked Spaghetti,  $\frac{1}{4}$  pound American cheese (grated).

Fry finely chopped onion in bacon fat until slightly brown. Add meat and cook until brown. Then add Cream of Tomato Soup and chopped pepper, and simmer slowly for 30 minutes. Add Cooked Spaghetti, mix thoroughly, and add grated cheese. Heat in a moderate oven, until cheese is melted.

Creole Pork

1 small can Cream of Tomato Soup, 1 small can Cooked Spaghetti, 1 pound ground raw pork, 2 onions,  $\frac{1}{2}$  teaspoon salt,  $\frac{1}{4}$  pound grated cheese,  $\frac{1}{2}$  cup grated crumbs, 1 tablespoon butter.

Chop onions fine and fry with ground pork until brown. (In additional fat). Drain off excess fat. Add Cooked Spaghetti, Cream of Tomato Soup and grated cheese. Turn into baking dish, cover with crumbs and butter. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce

With Cheese in Green Pepper Cases
Wash six large green peppers, cut in half and remove seeds. Place peppers in boiling water, turn off heat and allow to remain in water about five minutes to remove their strong taste. Cool, and fill the peppers with 1 medium can of Cooked Spaghetti. Dust lightly with salt, and cover with buttered crumbs. Place in casserole, add a small amount of water, and bake in a moderate oven until peppers are tender and crumbs are nicely browned.

Brown Sausages and Cooked

Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce
Brown one pound sausages. Drain off excess fat and pour in a large can of Cooked Spaghetti in Tomato Sauce with Cheese. Stir thoroughly until the Spaghetti is heated. Place the Spaghetti in the center of a platter and surround with the brown sausages. Garnish with parsley, and serve very hot.

Spaghetti with Pot Roast

Prepare a Pot Roast in the usual manner. When it is done, add a can or more of Cooked Spaghetti according to the size of your roast. Simmer for a few minutes, adding water to replace the gravy absorbed by the Spaghetti. In serving, place the meat in the center of the plate and heap the Spaghetti around it. Sweet Mustard Pickles are very good with this.

TO A DOLLAR BILL
Crinkle, crinkle, little bill;
Goodness, gracious you look ill.
Are you losing all your power?
You seem weaker by the hour.
"Now that prices are so high,
I'm so tired I could die.
I just circulate all day,
No one dares put me away.
When the evening board is set
With fruits of father's sweat,
My small voice is hushed and still—
I am in a butcher's till.
And no matter where I go,
People disregard me so;
I don't seem to count for such
'Mongst the profiteers and such."

Bill, take heart, your luck may change,

I'll admit the times are strange.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Doctrine of Atonement" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, April 20.

The Golden Text was, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new" (II Cor. 5:17).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Wherefore, my beloved, as ye have always obeyed, not as in my presence only, but now much more in my absence, work out your own salvation with fear and trembling. For it is God which worketh in you both to will and to do of his good pleasure" (Philippians 2:12, 13).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "We acknowledge Jesus' atonement as the evidence of divine, efficacious Love, unfolding man's unity with God through Christ Jesus the Way-shower; and we acknowledge that man is saved through Christ, through Truth, Life, and Love as demonstrated by the Galilean Prophet in healing the sick and overcoming sin and death" (p. 497).

LAKE COUNTY Farm Bureau NEWS NOTES

Scab Disease Threatens Apple Crop

Special information has just been received from the State Department of Horticulture at the University of Illinois by H. C. Gikerson, Lake County Farm Adviser, that there is an epidemic of the destructive apple scab disease which is threatening the apple crop of Illinois.

Many people are not aware of the seriousness of the apple scab disease.

since there is a large carry over of the infection from the 1929 season.

Dr. H. W. Anderson, of the Horticulture Department, in issuing a warning to growers, states:

"Four lime sulphur sprays used at the rate of two gallons of concentrated commercial liquid lime sulphur to one hundred gallons of water should be applied. The first should be put on when the fruit buds are showing pink, the second, when the petals are two-thirds off, the third, one week after the petals fall, and the fourth, two weeks later than the third."

Lead arsenate is added to each of these sprays to control Coddling Moth, Curculio, and other chewing insects. Usually the first of these sprays is put on the cluster bud or pink stage is the most important one in the control of scab. This spray under dry conditions is best applied just ahead of apple bloom, or during the two day period when the buds in cluster are separated, prior to blooming. In event of a forecasted rain, it would be well to advise the growers to thoroughly spray their scab susceptible varieties just ahead of a rainy weather prediction.

LOCAL MEN WILL BATTLE AT PALACE ARENA FRIDAY NIGHT

last Friday night by 1500 fans. Griffiths is in training at Twin Lakes, Wis., for his match with Jack Gannon, Boston heavyweight, at the Chicago stadium next Wednesday.

Other celebrities at the ring side were Westside Jack O'Brien, prominent Chicago fight promoter, and officials of the A. A. U.

In the windup bout, Karl Ogren, "Kenosha Swede," pounded out a four round victory over John Taylor, Waukegan colored star. The bout was one of the fastest ever seen in Lake county and the crowd was wild during the closing rounds. It is possible these men will be matched again.

Opener Ends in K. O.

The opening bout of the night came to a sudden termination in the second round when George Dubreski of Chicago put the "kayo" on Johnnie Kerns, Ahart King of Grayslake and Romer Kerns of Chicago put up a battle that was all "blood and gore" in one of the preliminaries, and King after hitting the canvas on several occasions in the first two stanzas, came back strong in the final round to win the decision.

The return bout between Ray Davis, Chicago southpaw, and Howard Craft of Grayslake, went to the former. Davis had too many lefts for Craft, and the latter was unable to solve the Chicago boy's defense. Carl Lemke of Kenosha and Johnny Olson of Chicago put up a good battle, but both fighters lacked experience. Olson put Lemke on the canvas in every round, and gained the judges' decision.

M. Goldstein of Chicago proved too clever for Jimmy Weber of Kenosha, and the former traveled at a fast clip the entire three rounds, and gained an easy decision. He had Weber in a bad way before the fight was half over.

Ernie Dearx of Chicago, Central A. A. U. champ in the 122 pound division, walloped William Hafferty of Chicago, and won the decision. Hafferty put up a game fight against overwhelming odds, but his showing in the final round should have gained a draw.

The German Band will bring to our high school auditorium "Deutschland itself" when they play their typically German selections. Watch the experienced Carl Pachay handle his "Starving Six" at the Spring Music Festival next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, April 28th.

Add to Main street lights—a fine new Neon electric sign that marks the entrance to the Chevrolet garage and salesroom.

Mr. Gerald G. Reed will be the "Official Master of Ceremony" at the Spring Music Festival Monday evening. We all know Mr. Reed will keep everyone laughing from start to finish. He says he has some brand new jokes, which he will present in their order. Perhaps the biggest one is the "German Band" and the Banjo Solo. Come and see for yourself. Monday evening, April 28.

No Direct Taxation

Regarding the manner in which the bonds are to be abated and the interest paid, Mr. Lobdell points out that due to funds available from the motor fuel tax, and refunds from the state by reason of many roads already built by the county and subsequently having been designated as state bond issue routes, the entire project can be financed without any direct taxation.

Refunds for roads built at county expense and later incorporated in the state bond issue system will exceed $500,000, Mr. Lobdell declares, and all of it will be available within the next four years. In addition to this amount Lake county is entitled to a refund of one-half the cost of all other pavements built on the state aid system. The county's share of this class of refunds will approximate $400,000.

Gas Tax $171,000

Based on the first five months of 1929 during which time the fuel tax law was in force, Lake county's share from this source should be $171,000 per year.

"The average yearly amount required to pay the interest on the bonds and retire the principal of this proposed issue is a little less than $110,000.00," Mr. Lobdell states in his report. "If, then, we will receive $143,000.00 per year in fuel tax money and the bond issue requirements are less than $110,000.00 per year, there will be a balance of at least $33,000.00 per year more than is required and surely there would be no direct tax levy for the bond issue requirements. You all know what would happen to the Board of Supervisors if they should authorize this levy unnecessarily—and so do they."

Citing the payment of interest money as the only disadvantage in the plan, Mr. Lobdell points to many reasons why the bond issue should be ratified by Lake county voters next Tuesday. Among the advantages he lists are: All roads would be completed in four years time, whereas if the bond issue is rejected, nine years will be required to build the roads. The saving of five years time during which we would have the use of the roads is worth while, Mr. Lobdell thinks.

The percentage of unemployment is very high at the present time, but if the road construction program is authorized it will mean Lake county will have provided employment for a considerable number of men over the ensuing four year period.

Then, if the plan is ratified, Lake county will have a plan for the construction of a definite system of highways, and in closing his statement Mr. Lobdell asks the careful consideration of the proposal by Lake county voters.

The Greatest Success in Nash History

EIGHT

(Twin-Ignition, Straight-Eight Motor)

Four years ago Nash engineers set themselves to develop the finest eight cylinder motor car on the market.

The most modern facilities and the newest specialized machines devised solely for eight cylinder work were installed to aid them.

Step by step, month by month, they progressed from improvement to further improvement.

Other makes of eights were introduced from time to time but with traditional devotion to quality Nash refused to permit haste to sacrifice the perfection sought.

And this adherence to the highest principles of design and manufacturing has earned its own reward in an eight that has achieved the greatest success of any model ever created by Nash.

It is a supremely outstanding motor car, of great power and speed, aggressively alert in action, of the highest quality throughout, and luxurious in fittings and appointments.

Always you have wanted the best money could buy. That's a natural and justifiable ambition. Now Nash affords you the opportunity of securing the very finest in motor cars.

Linking Town and Country

IN ADDITION to serving the needs of our immediate community we should think in terms of our Greater Community. Our City Limits should not be the limit of our sphere of influence. One task we face today—and one of greatest importance—is the forging of a stronger link between town and country.

The first automobile had but a single cylinder. While it served its purpose after a fashion, two decades ago, progress scrapped the one-cylinder car as unsuitable for present day conditions. This is the age of multicylinder automobiles. The community that fails to cultivate actively and constantly widen its sphere of influence by a closer association of town and country has adopted one-cylinder practices in a multicylinder age.

The six cylinders that give the motive power necessary to the development of greater community relations are:

1. The development of business relations—Creation of a desire among our neighbors to seek the necessities, pleasures and conveniences of daily life here.
2. Development of better transportation and communication—Good roads, telephone, railway and bus, mail, radio, newspaper and all other contact mediums.
3. Development of better schools—Seeing that subjects are included in our school courses that meet the needs of the children in our surrounding territory, and that we maintain a high school standing.
4. Development of culture—Through library activities, lecture courses and other means of development.
5. Development of churches—Supplying the Greater Community with greater spiritual riches.
6. Development of general sociability—Increasing neighborliness, providing amusements and facilities for entertaining the Greater Community.

By hitting on all six cylinders our town can double in growth and prosperity through the active cultivation of the Greater Community.

Our growth is not measured by population alone nor prosperity merely in dollars and cents, but by the number and variety of human relationships.

Fellow citizens, let's each of us strengthen the link welding our Greater Community to

STORY FROM THE START

Returning to America, during the War of 1812, after a successful voyage, Capt. Lion Fellowes' merchant ship Sachem is sunk off Portugal by a British frigate. His crew surrenders, but Fellowes reaches shore exhausted. His life is saved by an English-speaking girl who conceals her identity. He learns from her, however, that she is about to set out for Lisbon. Fellowes goes to Lisbon, hoping to find a vessel America bound. He meets Captain Chater of the American ship True Bounty, an acquaintance. Chater offers him a berth as mate. Fellowes refuses, knowing Chater is disloyal in trading with the enemy. He meets the girl who saved his life, Cara Inglepin, daughter of the owner of the True Bounty. Cara induces him to sail as mate. Fellowes falls in love with her. The True Bounty is stopped by the British frigate, Badger, Captain Collishaw. Despite his American citizenship, Fellowes is taken aboard the Badger as a "pressed" man. Maddened at what he believes is Cara's and Chater's treachery he strikes Collishaw, who orders him a hundred lashes with the "cat."

CHAPTER IV

Tom Grogan and Cuffee Cockroach

In his delirium Fellowes was plagued by a weird specter—the head of Collishaw on the sinewy torso of Bob Clinch—that brandished a dripping cat over his lacerated back. But always as the lashes were about to fall a gigantic black figure intervened, and a soft, crooning voice quelled his frenzied defiance:

"Hush yo'se, mars'r, Cuffee hol' yo' han'. Dar, yo' don' need noller—ah! only Cuffee 'n' Tom wid' yo'."

Fellowes raised his head as the negro spoke, and his lips parted in a groan. He was lying on his stomach on a pile of hammocks, the yellow glare of a battle-lantern, suspended above him, revealed the confined space of the Badger's berth-deck. From his neck to his loins his back was a blaze of agony.

"How long have I been here?" he whispered.

"Dis two night. Yo' hab much bobbery, mars'r. Yo' holler, an' yo' yell, an' yo' wan' fo' kill him cap'n. Oh, my aunt, yo' plenty sick!"

Fellowes moved again, tentatively, to ease a stiffness in his legs, and with the stab of pain which shot through him he felt an oily moisture percolating down his flanks.

"What have you got on me?" he asked, between gritted teeth.

"Plenty slush. Dat best fo' yo' Bob Clinch fetch him from cookee. Yo' go fo' sleep." The negro settled back on his heels. "Sleep mo' better fo' yo'."

"But why do you do this for me?" exclaimed Fellowes.

"Cuffee help yo' fo' dat yo' strike him cap'n had face. An' Cuffee tink yo' plenty juju fo' take bogg'n' widout boller. Cuffee like yo' fine."

"I'm very grateful," said Fellowes weakly. "You—it's the last thing I expected. What did you say your name was?"

"Cuffee, mars'r—Cuffee Cockroach. Now yo' go fo' sleep."

The crooning voice hummed a slow monotonous tune, and despite himself, despite the pain that racked and burned, Fellowes drifted off into a drowsy slumber. When he awoke dawned sunshine was pouring down an open hatch. He turned his head with difficulty, and at once a gruff voice spoke beside him.

"Easy all, shipmate. That back's purty tender."

The speaker was the short, bow-legged sailor, of the bristling black beard and mahogany-tanned hide.

"There was a negro here," Fellowes answered feebly. "In the night—"

"Cuffee, mars'r. He's on watch—leastways, he's at gun-drill. Yo' wouldn't scarcely suspect it, now, would ye, but that nigger's a master hand with Long Tom? Holystone me, if he ain't the smartest gunner I ever seed."

"Your name is Tom, isn't it?"

"Tom Grogan of Philadelphia, P. A.—likewise, A. B. Pressed off the schooner Martha out o' Baltimore. But maybe ye could eat a morsel? All ye had was a sup o' rum since ye came below."

He dropped on his knees by Fellowes' head, and offered him a spoonful of steamy liquid from a pannikin.

"Cuffee cooked this for ye," he pursued. "For an ign'rant nigger he's got a surpris'n' lot o' knowhow."

Fellowes was amazed at the taste and savor of the mess.

"What is it?" he asked.

"Salt-horse 'n' hardtack 'n' whatever Cuffee could steal out o' the galley," Grogan replied, grinning. "He's a master-cook, too—that's how we shipped him on the Martha."

"You were pressed together?"

"For sartin. Collishaw was only for takin' me, but Cuffee, he up and says as how he's allus shipped with me, 'n' if I'm transferin' to the ryal navy, why, he'll come, too."

"Then Cuffee isn't a slave?"

Grogan set down the pannikin, and scratched his ear doubtfully.

"Well, mate, that's a question I've often asked myself. Y'see, the Martha took him off the wreck of a slave—San Jago, of Havana—damasted in the Middle passage. He was the only livin' critter aboard. I guess he wouldn't have lasted more'n a day, if we hadn't happened by. Cap'n, he didn't want to take Cuffee off—but I was a curious young feller, and thar was a chance the slavers had left treasure behind 'em, so the cap'n, he hems 'n' haws and 'lows I can go, if so be I go alone, which same I did."

Fellowes found the narrative amusing. It removed his thoughts from his tortured back.

Grogan went on: "Cuffee come, 'n' he kissed my hand, and knelted down on the deck in front of me. And after I took him back to the Martha, 'n' we'd fatted him a piece, why, ye jest couldn't pry him away from me. Cap'n, he called him 'Tom Grogan's nigger, and nex' time we made Baltimore that's how the cus tom officers entered him. 'Cuffee Cockroach, property o' Tom Grogan, A. B., of Philadelphia, P. A.'"

A shadow fell across Fellowes' face, and Clinch squatted opposite Grogan.

"Feelin' a mite more peckish, ind'?" inquired the bosun. "Rot my gits, but yer a game huntin'." He paused awkwardly. "No anemoseetees, I 'ope?"

Fellowes thrust out a hand, regardless of the pain the movement caused him.

"I haven't anything against you, bosun," he answered. "I'm sore, but "What Yo' Po' Fool Do?" Cuffee Scolded.

I'll be up and about soon. And then I'll attend to the cur who used you."

Clinch darted a worried look over his shoulder.

"Belay that talk, lad," he ordered, gruffly. "Twon't get ye nowhere. Ye can't reach the cap'n. Ain't it so, Tom Grogan? Yer a pressed man. Tell the lad I'm talkin' for 's own good."

"Sartin, sartin," Grogan corroborated soothingly. "Ye got to use plain sense. Yer jest a pressed seaman like me 'n' Cuffee, only ye bit the cap'n in the jaw—and lived to reckon it."

"Aye, aye," agreed Clinch. "Don't forget that. Cripes, lad, a cap'n can't let one o' 's men strike 'm. 'E was as easy as 'e could be."

"Easy!" Fellowes snapped scornfully. "I'd rather have been killed than flogged."

Clinch rose uncomfortably.

"See 'ere," he said, "I don't like the way ye talk. The cap'n, 'e's fair, but 'e's 'ard. All for discipline, 'e is."

Fellowes experienced a profound sensation of weakness. "It doesn't matter," he mumbled, fighting back the tears of rage that pricked his eyelids. "But if I live—G—d, how I hate the cur! And her! and her!"

His voice became a wail. There was a sudden patter of feet on the deck.

"What yo' po' fool do?" Cuffee scolded. "Buckra mars'r, him sick, like ill chile. Yo' wan' fo' make him mo' bobbery?"

"We ain't done nothin' to him, nigger," Clinch protested. "'E was alk' in 'n' the cap'n—"

"Yo' let him talk! Cap'n had man. Someday him die. Dis buckra mars'r

Good Man's Great Fault
Not an Uncommon One

"I understand," said the household-er of another village to a friend, "that you used to know the parson who is coming to our church?"

"That's right," returned the other. "Is he a good man?" asked the household-er. "What I mean is, has he any faults or anything against him?"

"He's certainly a very good man," said the friend, "and, since you press me, I will tell you that he has one very grave fault."

"What is that?"

"He doesn't know how to sing," came the answer.

"But, my good fellow, that's not a very grave fault."

"Admitted," returned the friend; "but, you see, he sings just the same as if he did know."—London Answers.

One-Man Sawmill

Making it possible for the farmer to operate his own sawmill without employing other help, a one-man sawmill now is available to turn into profit much of the timber that formerly was used for firewood or wasted entirely. The mill is so arranged that all the levers to manipulate it are within easy reach of the operator and, aside from sawing out standard size lumber, will also cut shingles, lath and railroad ties. Stationary or portable mills may be obtained and both are operated by stationary engines, electric motors, water power, or by a belt from a truck.

But he cannot stop there and win success. He must organize his work and himself, be prepared to take an occasional loss and only using his voting power to keep himself at the task.—Arkansas Gazette.

Police Dog's Good Work

Because he has Nina, a police dog, Norman E. Hershey, a farmer, at Marietta, Pa., still has a cow named Bess. Early one morning he was aroused by a scratching at the door. Investigating, he found Nina, who had been locked up in the barn the night before. The dog coaxed Hershey toward the barn, where he rescued the cow before she strangled to death in the hayrack. When Bess became trapped, Nina clawed away the latch on the upper half of the barn door, bounded over the lower half, which had resisted her efforts, and was off on her rescue mission.

HISTORY'S MYSTERIES

Unsolved Riddles That Still Puzzle Authorities Here and Abroad

What Became of Harvey Wentworth?

THE Civil war brought about many very mysterious disappearances, but one of the most remarkable of them all was that of Harvey B. Wentworth, New Hampshire farmer lad who went away on a furlough one day in July, 1862, and was never heard from thereafter. Naturally, there were a number of cowards who deserted the colors either because of fear of dissatisfaction with the way in which they were treated, but everything pointed to the fact that this was not the case with young Wentworth and, as a result, all possible efforts were made to discover what had become of him. But in vain. He had apparently vanished as completely as if the earth had opened and swallowed him.

Early in July, 1862, a new regiment of volunteers was mustered into service in the vicinity of Suncook, N. H., a regiment known as the Nineteenth New Hampshire volunteers. One of the most enthusiastic members of this regiment was young Wentworth, a private in Company D. He was a farmer boy of exceptionally good habits, intelligent and inquisitive. Therefore, when the regiment encamped on the Virginia side of the Potomac, near Aqueduct bridge, and Wentworth requested a furlough to see the sights of the Capital, it was granted without a moment's hesitation. In company with a number of others he left camp—and was never heard from again. At the next roll call he was marked "not present" and some days later, was entered as having "mysteriously disappeared."

No one ever believed that Wentworth had deserted. He was not built that way, and every circumstance in the case pointed away from such probability. A special court of inquiry was called and, after considering the meager evidence in the case, reported that Wentworth had "disappeared from mortal ken but, in view of his character and antecedents, we clear him from the charge of desertion and recommend that his military record be regarded as without stain."

This opinion was principally based upon the fact that Wentworth had never been heard to complain of the hardships of army life even during the forced march southward from New Hampshire. In fact, he had been too short a time in the service to tire of it and had been treated with the utmost consideration, his cousin being captain of the company of which he was a member. Moreover, there was plenty of evidence that the New Hampshire boy had been extremely anxious to reach the front and see something of real war.

When he left camp he was full of youthful enthusiasm over the prospect of seeing the sights of Washington and, apparently, had never left the city. Sentries had been posted at every road that led out of the Capital, as well as along its leading thoroughfares, and no one could get by them without having his pass recorded. The records of these guards showed that the missing youth had presented his pass on entering the western limits of the city, and they indicated his progress along Pennsylvania avenue to the Capitol. But, after that, all trace of him was lost.

The thorough investigation which followed his unaccountable disappearance showed that he had last been seen on the brow of Capitol hill, looking over the city spread out before him. All about him were masons and stone cutters, working on an extension to the Capitol. Below him was a labyrinth of partly covered excavations for the subbasement of the new extension.

What could have become of him? Did he meet with foul play, and if so, how was his body concealed? Did he fall a prey to the bullet of some Confederate spy? Was it possible that, while exploring the labyrinthine mazes of the new portion of the Capitol he was overcome by the heat and fell into some dark abyss, where his remains were later wallied up and entombed?

Had he deserted, Wentworth would have eventually returned to New Hampshire, if only for the purpose of keeping in touch with conditions there. But nothing was ever heard of him in any section of the country, and the only mark to his memory is the monument in the little churchyard in Suncook, New Hampshire, which bears the lettering:

"Harry B. Wentworth—Mysteriously disappeared from the knowledge of men—Washington, D. C., July, 1862."

Smallest War Memorial

It is still a moot point as to where in London one encounters the smallest war memorial, writes "Looker On" in the London Daily Chronicle. The smallest I have come across is a glass case on the front of a block of workmen's flats on Albert embankment near Vauxhall. It is a simple, home-made affair enshrining only about a score of names of men living in the block who served in the war, with a cross marked against those who fell. All these years—it was apparently started during the war—it has been carefully tended by the tenants; there are always one or two blooms in glass jars in front of it. A humble but faithful tribute of remembrance.

Cops Just Plain Dumb

By M. L. DE VRIES

(Copyright.)

OFFICER KEARNEY had a personal, intense dislike for radios, which he called raddios and which, he said, were keeping a good man down. He explained it all to the pale clerk who led him to the rear of the shop. "It don't give us little guys a chance. I been needin' a citation to get my promotion, but there ain't never anything doing. You see these guys tearin' around; they got a raddio and the chief at headquarters sends 'em the word when there's a hold-up or a murder and it's all over with by the time an ordinary guy gets his dogs movin'."

"Well, there's no law makin' you buy one if you don't like 'em," the clerk stated.

"The h—! there ain't—Mrs. Lester Kearney."

"Oh!" said the clerk. "I've heard of such cases."

"I can't afford it but she says you aren't in it any more unless you've got one," Officer Kearney stated. "So trot 'em out."

They moved toward the rear of the store. Suddenly the clerk stopped: "Who sent you here?"

"Why," the officer responded, "my friend Tiny did—Tiny Burke. Said you and he was sidekicks. He gave me the address, 862 Whiting street, and said you'd treat me right."

"Ah, yes—good old Tiny."

They stopped before one of the machines lined against the wall, and the clerk adjusted the dial. When sound came he assumed a pose of rapt attention.

It developed that the item was market quotations on hogs, wheat and corn from WIOZ.

"Seems like a powerful machine. Is there a price?"

"—Er—one hundred fifty," came glibly.

"Cheap enough for a trusty. How come?"

The clerk winked. "To our friends, you understand. And anybody who's a friend of Tiny is a friend of mine. All right?"

"O. K. Any music in the air?"

The clerk shifted the dial. There was a gruff rumble and the machine sent forth a low growl like lions in pain.

"Patrol number eight—go to 653 Bombay—"

The clerk hesitated only an instant. "That ain't music, I'm sure of that. I was tryin' to get—"

Officer Kearney put out a restraining hand. He seemed puzzled. "I'd know that voice in a wind storm, and I'll eat my badge for a phate-lunch if it ain't Sergeant Carey."

"Yeah? They send out reports from the police station to the patrols. It's a good machine what'll pick that up. It's h—! for these here burglars, too. The cops are right on their necks."

"That's what I was sayin'," said Kearney. "It don't give us plain hooers a chance."

The voice droned on, sending out the startling vice and crime incidents which a large city breeds. "A woman jumped from the fifteenth story of the Liberty hotel. See Moran. He reported it. Number 12 get this. Radio store at 862 Whiting held up. Look for Jackie Nack. He loves raddios. Reported by the garage next door. Owner tied up in the rear room but he got to a window. He's layin' low until you get there."

The store was very quiet, except for the drone of the broadcaster's voice. For a moment both men looked startled. Then the clerk grinned:

"Holy smoke! That's this dump. Somebody pulled a boner. They're dumb, I tell you. Them cops are just plain dumb. We'll have the whole force on our necks in a minute."

Officer Kearney mused.

"Just a minute, son—come back here a minute."

The clerk stopped, his back turned on the officer. For an instant he stood rooted to the spot, then he shrugged and returned. The officer continued:

"They're dumb—sure. They got the wrong number. All cops are dumb. It's the burglars that are the wise guys. Guys like this Jackie Nack. You know him?"

"Sure, all us radio stores are on the lookout for him. A slick guy, about my size."

"Well, say, now, I wonder—"

The clerk grinned again. "I follow you, chief. You've got a notion—maybe you'd like to put the bracelets on me?" Grinning from ear to ear, he held out his hands toward the officer.

"Well," said Officer Kearney, rising. "Yes, I would." He flashed a pair of handcuffs and in an instant slipped them expertly around the man's wrists.

"Cooked," Jackie Nack said, sheepishly.

"Yeah, cooked. We're all dumb, Jackie, all dumb. It ain't only the cops." He raised his voice and called to the rear of the store: "Oh, Tiny—come on, I got him."

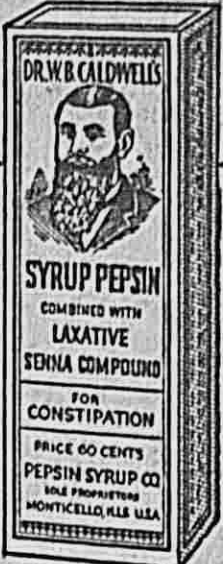

Jackie looked crestfallen.

"Say, is that guy Tiny Burke, this here friend of yours, the same one that I—"

"Sure, Jackie. He's the guy you hogtied in the back room. He gave me the high-sign through the window, so I came in after tellin' the garage man to send in the alarm. I wanted those raddio guys to get here after it was all over with. Thanks for the demonstration, Jackie. I guess I can afford one now."

"I hope it drives you nutty," said Jackie grudgingly as the patrol screamed to a stop.

Jim's Thoughts Traveled Beyond the Honeymoon

Governor Young was commenting on the California marriage law which compels ardent couples to stop, look and think before they take the final step.

"It is a good law," he said, "and although it was primarily aimed at the so-called 'gin marriage' it has a far wider scope than that. In these days of high cost of living, too many young people are of the Jim Harris type."

"Jim, you know, was very anxious to marry Claudia. Claudia was willing and her parents were not averse to the match."

"As a wedding present," Claudia confided to Jim, "Dad is going to pay all the expenses of our honeymoon trip."

"That's fine," said Jim and then added anxiously, "but what are we going to do after that?"—Los Angeles Times.

Hawaiian Forests

Hawaii is blessed with a considerable quantity of forest land, yet with the exception of one type of wood, koa or Hawaiian mahogany, the forest lands are of little value. The total acreage of woodlands is estimated at 1,000,000 acres, but it is largely in tropical forests with much mesquite. Ohia lehuana, another type of tree, has considerable value as a protection for watersheds.—Washington Star.

Restless Children

Children will fret, often for no apparent reason. But there's always one sure way to comfort a restless, fretful child. Castoria! Harmless as the recipe on the wrapper; mild and bland as its tastes. But its gentle action soothes a youngster more surely than some powerful medicine that is meant for the stronger systems of adults.

That's the beauty of this special children's remedy! It may be given the tiniest infant—as often as there is any need. In cases of colic, diarrhea, or similar disturbance, it is invaluable. But it has everyday uses all mothers should understand. A coated tongue calls for a few drops to ward off constipation; so does any suggestion of bad breath. Whenever children don't eat well, don't rest well, or have any little upset—this pure vegetable preparation is usually all that's needed to set everything to rights. Genuine Castoria has Chas. H. Fletcher's signature on the wrapper. Doctors prescribe it.

His Number

"He is one of those newrich, isn't he?"

"Yes, he'd still think of sausages instead of golf if he heard links mentioned."

Labor a Necessity

Work is the secret of true happiness. "Take away the occupation of all men," says John Burroughs, "and half the world will commit suicide within a year."—Grit.

Says Men Want Pals, Not Patients!

SHE was engaged! She was the happiest girl in the world. A round of teas and parties, a whirl of pleasure, and she began to wonder what was the matter. Too tired to go out—and he—was he becoming tired of her?

It was at this point that Miss Margaret Belden of Los Angeles woke up to the fact that something had to be done about it. "Men want pals, not patients," she writes. "I went right to my doctor. Do you know what he said? Rest—and Nujol."

"With a prayer in my heart and Nujol in my medicine cabinet I began to fight back to being the healthy, robust, happy girl I had been before. Two months passed. No more tears—no more worrying, no more bad dreams. Today I beat him on the tennis court, and although he can out-swim me, I make him work doing it. It's good to be happy. It's good to be free, physically, and be able to share, any time, in sports or dancing or anything else with the one you love!"

Here's another one who has learned that the simplest and surest way to be well and full of good spirits is to clear the bodily poisons out of your system regularly. Not with powerful drugs, but normally, naturally, easily. Doctors and nurses recommend such a natural treatment as Nujol, because this crystal-clear liquid isn't a medicine at all! It cannot harm even a little baby! It contains absolutely no drugs. It is simply internal lubrication that your body needs like any other machine. Good looks and good spirits—do they spell popularity? You know they do! Get a bottle of Nujol tonight in any drug store. Sold in sealed packages only—trademarked "Nujol." Insist on Nujol by name. It costs but a few cents—and it will make you feel like a million dollars.
